

ImprovYourLife: The Game Show!

The Show

To start the show several volunteers will be selected from the audience.

I will explain the rules of a few easy to learn competitive Improv games and then lead them in those games.

Keeping Score

After each game the participants will be awarded points. At the end of the night we'll add up the points and declare a winner.

What It's All About

It'll all be in lighthearted, slightly, competitive fun and no previous improv knowledge or skill required. Just a desire to laugh, have fun, and maybe even make some friends.
